Get ready . . . get set . . .
Study!

Fall quarter at Middle Georgia College began with the traditional events and necessary agonies — moving in, getting adjusted to new friends and a unique environment, registration, the faculty reception, and orientation to the academic program. But as the year progressed, the multi-faceted routine of college life provided opportunities for academic investigation, personality exploration, and social maturity.

As students settled into the schedule of college life, they found scientific equipment to experiment with the physical world, computers to solve the most complex riddles, and library resources for extensive research and study.

Special Events

Through federal grants for cultural affairs, Middle Georgia has traditionally offered for its students an outstanding cultural arts series every year. This year the program began with the Goosoo Creek Symphony, who received only a mediocre response from students. However, in the on the quarter the Kainer Twins gave an unusually entertaining piano concert they were so well-received that many students went backstage after his performance to ask for autographs and to chat with the artists.

Middle Georgia College was particularly lucky to be able to show this year the CIVILISATION films, a series of thirteen color films a personal view of the ideas and events of the last sixteen hundred years in the history of Western man, written and narrated by Kenneth Clark and produced by the British Broadcasting Corporation and presented by TIME LIFE films. Many students chose to use these films to fulfill partially the requirements for social science courses; the films were shown on Thursdays.

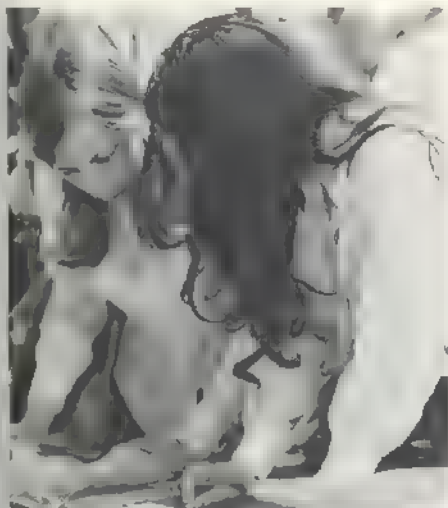

In addition the Student Activities Committee worked diligently this year and provided not only an exceptional array of films shown on Wednesday nights, but also booked and presented many popular bands and singing groups. Engaged twice during the year was the AVALANCHE, pictured here.

Campaigns . . . posters . . . ballots . . . Student Council.

The Student Council election began by putting up posters and running through it. The week with no classes, which was a week. Not a lot of work was played in. Encouraging among the student. After the election at the end of the week and the council members had been announced. The hardest part of the game began just by putting up the student body.

Fall Activities Carnival

Besides conducting the work of the clubs and as the chairman of the year, he has been sponsoring an Activities Carnival. The carnival was held on the school grounds and was a big success. The students had a great time and the teachers were also enjoying the spirit of gaiety. The carnival was a great success and the students were very happy.

Mice . . . Money . . . Meetings . . .

One of the most active groups on campus, the Cancer Club participated in the American Cancer Society's "Send a Mouse to College Fund Drive." In two days, members collected twenty-seven cardboard mouse cases, the rough lot for cancer research. The drive received a total of $181.00 in over 650 more.

Wearing their blue and white jerseys, Cancer members also participated in the Proctorville "Cubby" football "workman" of camouflage drive to improve school spirit and basketball games.

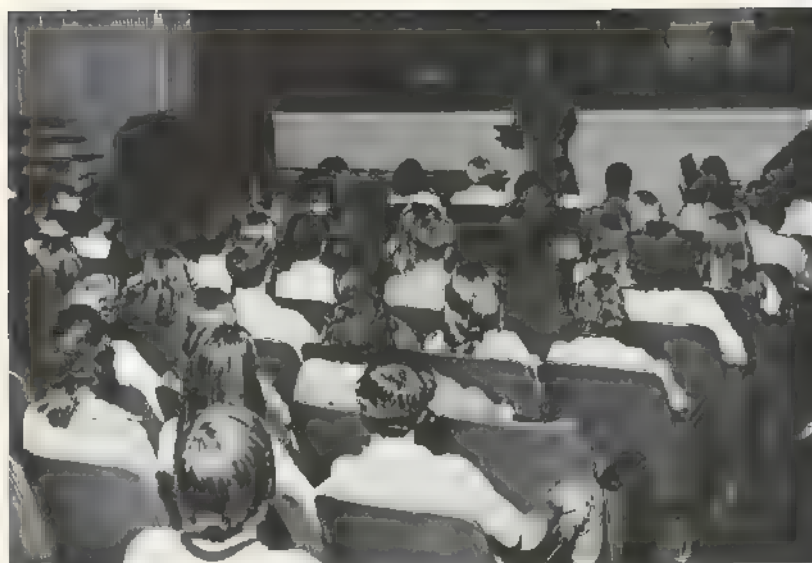

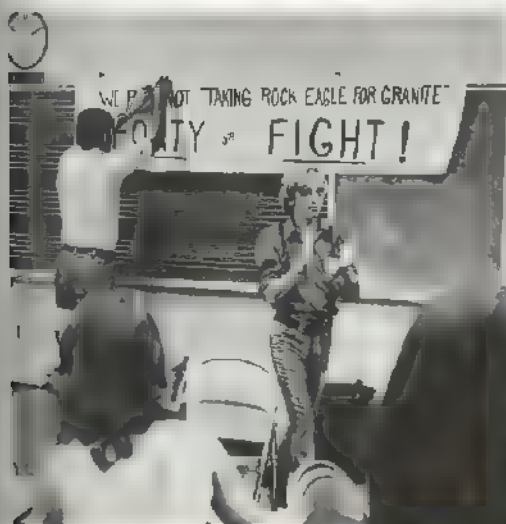

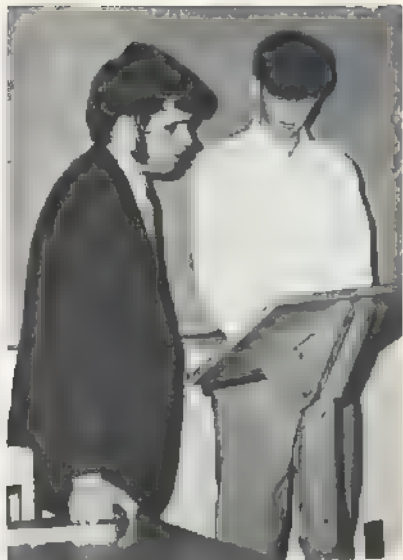

And her creative hobby, Quincey Stellas Memorial of a year's work with a commitment to the home of a Spanish Missionary McDonald. One of the more successful projects was a Fall Fest or Show featuring the costumes of Eastern, Central and Hawaiian life.

At the end of the year, the Christmas and a number of other events, including the Family Reunion, the Squidfest and the Christmas Caravan, etc., etc., and entered the night of the Christmas Eve. All the year long, the next day, the next programs of making gifts, choosing precious and semi-precious stones and evaluating home's Christmas past.

Service through Love.

Offering service in many areas, the Baptist Student Union had some of the busiest club members on campus. Pictured here is Dr. Aubrey Hawkins, Executive-Secretary in charge of Student Work at the Georgia Baptist Convention, who spoke to the club early in the year to help them build on his aim.

Then, the group worked hard to get forty members to attend the fall B.S.U. convention at Rock Eagle. "Forty or eight" was the slogan for this campaign.

Arranging numerous music and religious programs, the B.S.U. sponsored the performance of the Glenville Baptist Church Youth Choir, pictured here.

Other activities of this club included viewing religious films, raising money for summer missions, visiting rest homes, and visiting area churches to give personal testimonies and programs.

"Warriors are Dynamite!"

Pictured here are scenes from fall sports events. Men's intramural football entered numbers 10 to test their skills with the Indiana state championship.

In addition, the women's basketball team in its second year of existence drew large crowds to watch them play. Men's swim and track teams with their in-out-of-town competition with various other colleges.

This year, the newly formed soccer team sparked interest in campus. The team had a very successful year for a first attempt.

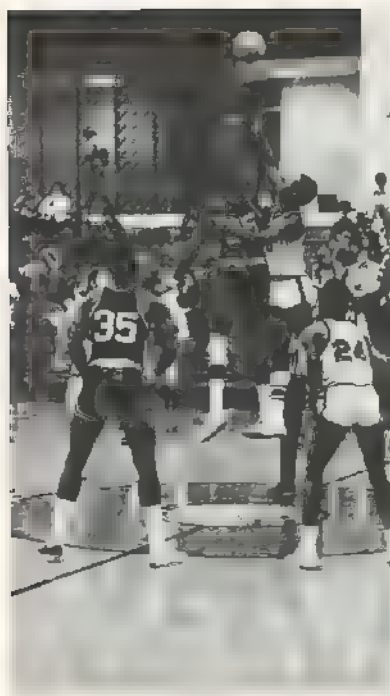

"We're big, We're bad . . .

... and We're boss!"

"Rip 'em up . . .

"Lady Warriors, Keep it alive!"

This year school spirit for the Warriors ran high. During the basketball season, the Presidents Club led a drive to encourage school spirit at men and women's games. The club members put posters in almost all of the buildings on campus, encouraging supporting the teams. By the end of the season, enthusiasm was at its peak.

BUS STOP Production by Midga Players

BUS STOP, Midga Players' fall production, was a smashing hit. A hilarious comedy about a feuding couple and those they meet in a street corner restaurant in a small town west of Kansas City, the play featured Joan Rumph and Steve Cignarello in the lead roles, with Melody Ruth, Marian Chappell, Jerry Crosby, Gary Thess, vaughn Clark and Dale Smith in supporting roles.

Preceding the first performance of the play, Terry Kay, Drama Critic for the ATLANTA JOURNAL, spoke in Russell Hall Auditorium. Both the play and Mr. Kay's lecture were part of the official opening of Russell Hall, as was an exhibit by Chemalower of Duham.

Everyman Players

A novel stage production of Aesop's fable, "The Fox and the Hatred," was presented by the Everyman Players in November 71. Since the American premiere of the play in 1967, the production has traveled New England, the Midwest and Southwest, as well as Italy, Holland and Britain. Reviewers have praised the production as being "brilliant" and "superb."

A brilliant combination of music, mime and visual characterizations, the production was well received. The costumes and make-up alone were miles apart. The cast took two hours to apply make-up and then, wearing a twenty-pound shell of life, goss-

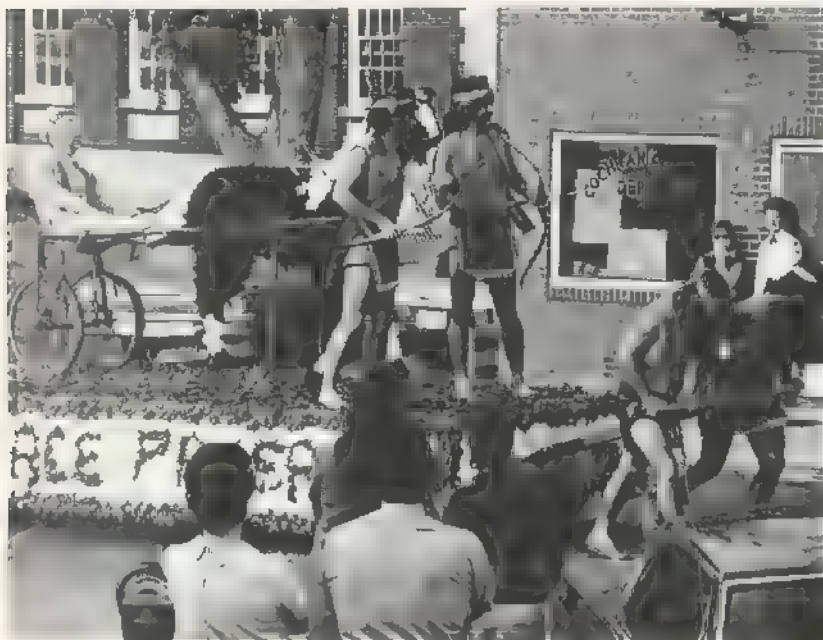

Homecoming '71

Homecoming week got underway when enthusiastic students began decorating the commons and building floats for the parade. Each club competed for the prize which was given for having the best decoration, and many clubs entered floats hoping that theirs might win prize money. With these decorations all over campus the homecoming spirit at its peak. It was easy to see what everyone wanted. Here the Pacific High School band, a float.

Starting Homecoming celebration on Friday was a parade which progressed from downtown Cochran to the campus. All campus organizations and local school bands participated in the parade. It was enjoyed by the residents of Cochran as well as the students of MCL.

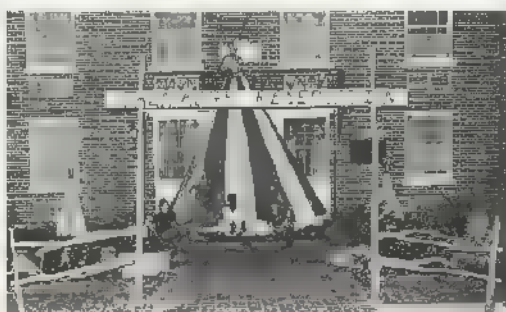

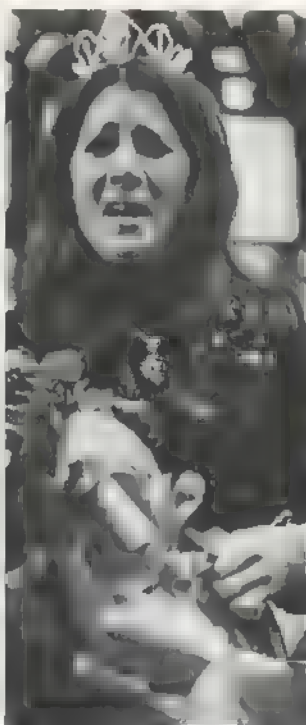

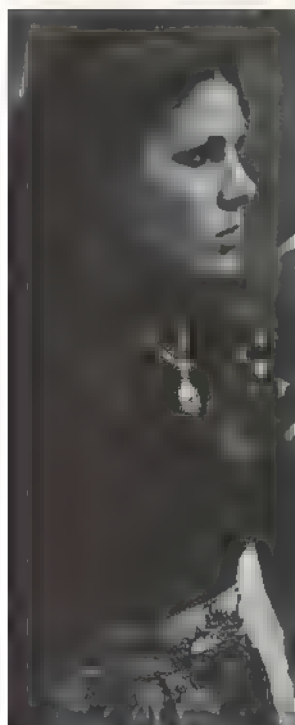

At a critical time in the history of an exciting game, the ball was in the air. The player in the light jersey, number 52, was jumping to shoot the ball. The player in the dark jersey, number 10, was jumping to block the shot. The ball was in the air, and the players were in a state of intense competition. The game was a close one, and the outcome was uncertain. The players were all doing their best, and the spectators were watching intently. The game was a great one, and it was a real treat to watch. The players were all very skilled, and the game was a real test of their abilities. The spectators were all very excited, and they were all cheering for their favorite team. The game was a real success, and it was a real pleasure to watch. The players were all very happy, and they were all proud of their team. ## Christmas Festivities

To celebrate the Christmas season, the President's Club and the Warner's Auxiliary Committee held a traditional Christmas luncheon at the home of Miss Swanson in Des Moines, Iowa. In addition, Christmas parties, along with several other Christmas programs, were held in various parts of the community. These Christmas parties were held in homes and restaurants.

Yuletide Spirit

St. Cloud students were able to get in the holiday spirit without a Christmas tree in their dorms. Activities Committee chairman, Jeff H. Hest, spent a few many hours to put up a beautiful tree outside of Georgia Hall. At the tree lighting, the RSC Choir presented a program of music and Dr. Moorman addressed the gathering of students.

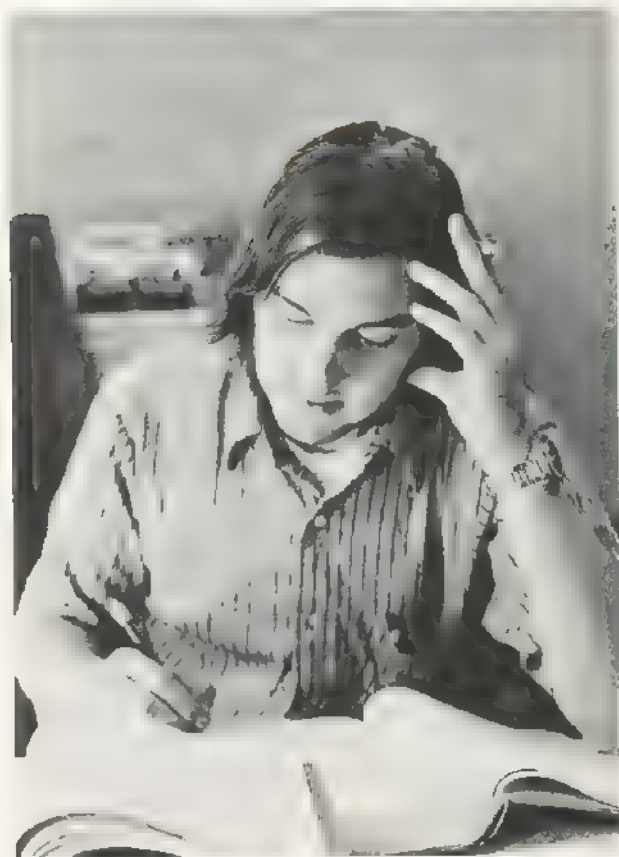

Recently, students showed holiday spirit by decorating their rooms in the dorms.

And then . . .

there were exams.

Another beginning . . .

with winter quarter registration.

Tests . . . tutors . . . observations.

Students taking courses of education were required to observe classes in the Christian schools for one week. At Christmas time the SCAF club gave a party to children whom they had been working with in special education at the welfare.

Middle Georgia College students took the writing proficiency exam during winter quarter and scored higher than the state average on the writing proficiency exam. The competency score of MCC was 92% compared to the average score of 71%.

For several years, the title of Miss Hilltopper has been bestowed on the girl that a panel of impartial judges decided best represented the ideal young woman—beautiful, personable, intelligent and active in the affairs of her school.

This year the Miss Hilltopper tea, at which the judges interviewed the contestants who had been nominated by various organizations on the campus, was held on January 10 in the President's Dining Room of Georgia Hall. Judges included Leslie Kidd, giver, President of the Presidents' Club; Dr. William H. McCawmon, Professor of Education and Psychology; Miss Judy McDonald, instructor of Home Economics; Mrs. Charles Neal from Warner Robins; and Mrs. Bobby Smith, a former Miss Alaska from Warner Robins.

Following a delightful tea hosted by the Hilltopper staff, the contestants were quizzed on questions ranging from women's liberation to the Vietnamese war. The panel then selected Miss Diane Forehand, a sophomore from Cochran, as Miss Hilltopper. First runner-up was Miss Sarah Smith from Forsyth with second runner-up Pam Stokes from Warner Robins. Third runner-up was Vicki Smith from Forsyth. These winners were announced and presented flowers at Honors Day in May.

"I Do! I Do!", Flamenco in Concert, The Spurrilows

During winter and spring quarters, a variety of cultural programs delighted AGU's students. Brought back by popular demand from the preceding years, Jack and Sally Ennis gave a superb performance in the uproariously funny Broadway musical "I Do! I Do!"

Then, Ennis and Isabel Marra led their audience into a thrilling performance in a Flamenco concert. This concert was the first of its kind to be presented on the campus and students receive a "quite" view.

But that didn't even be was the Spurrilows. This group of young people provided its own music — displaying skill on several instruments — and rendered unusual versions of many types of music from soul to religious spirituals.

Hard Work . . .

Three publications — KERNEL, MUSFS, and HILLTOPPER — are published at MGC for students and by students. This year the KERNEL staff produced outstanding newspapers; in fact, the paper won the Georgia Collegiate Press Association Award for Best Campus News Coverage. The staff, under the direction of advisor Mr. Hinton and editor Steve Shriev, kept students abreast of campus events and feeling through news stories, editorials, opinion polls, and pictorial coverage of activities.

For the first time this year MUSFS, the literary magazine, featured the musical score of a hymn and a haiku written for drums. The cover featured the winning oil portrait. This year there were two art categories for competition: one for art majors and one for non-majors. In addition, photography entries were judged separately from art entries. The staff, headed by editor Mary Ann Napier and advisor Mrs. Bridges, distributed the magazines in May.

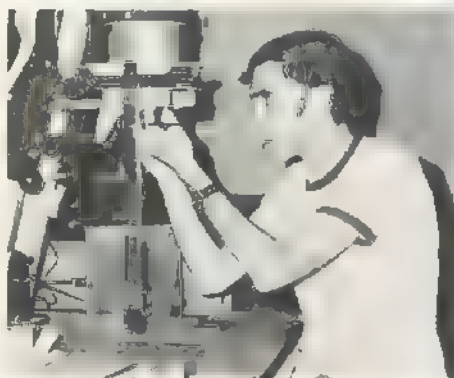

. . . tedious layouts
. . . nerve racking
deadlines.

The HILTOPPER staff, headed by Mary Jo Branley and sponsored by Mrs. Odom and Mrs. Keeling, produced a fall book for the first time. The staff worked hard planning for this "first." Most of the pictures were taken by student photographers.

Besides producing the HILTOPPER, the staff sponsored a tea to select an all-round star to represent the yearbook. Judging was based upon beauty, poise, personality, scholastic achievement, and extra-curricular activities. Diane Forehand exhibited these qualities and was crowned Miss Hiltopper on May 10.

Group Service and Government

The Student Council, Civitan, and the Student Activities Committee were the leaders of AGC this year. The Student Council organized themselves in women's curtains, the Student Activities Committee entertained with popular acts and movies, and the Civitan assisted the country in getting blood donations on campus. Keepers were held each Wednesday night for students of all denominations.

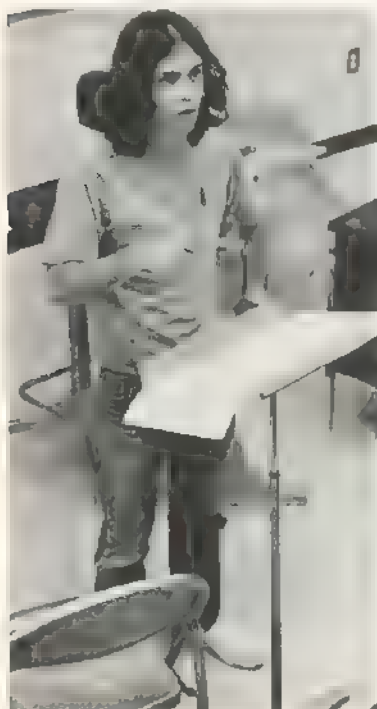

October, the Kappa Epsilon Sigma sponsored by Dr. Bean, enjoyed a deb at the scenes tour of Mark Smith Lunatorium in Marion.

Each year the Phi Theta Kappa composer of the year's date sponsors a talent show. This year he did under the direction of Mr. Clancy presented all the talent show with many talented students' sweetness and light on stage. It was a crowd with hilarious and captured the place of the world's wonders.

"We Believe in Music."

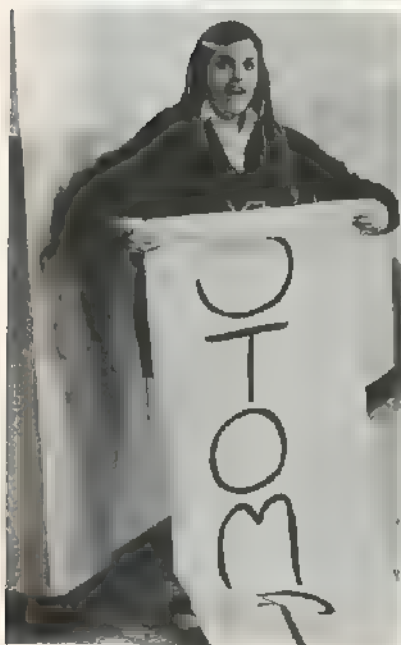

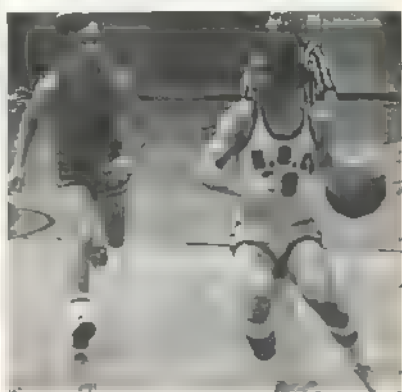

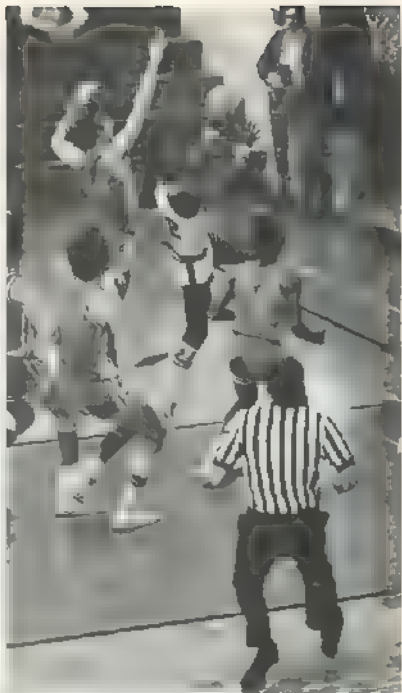

At the beginning, a sax player blowing forth essential notes, a pianist dutifully mastering a Bach fugue, these were familiar sounds in Russell Hall. Three groups, the Union Stageband and Ensemble practiced constantly to perfect numbers for presentation at various college concerts, and community meetings. Round trips for these groups were times of reaching phase making new acquaintances, and training in group cooperation.

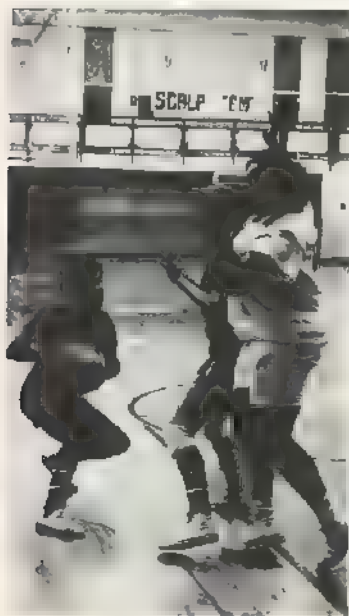

"Beat the Warriors? Ain't no Way!!"

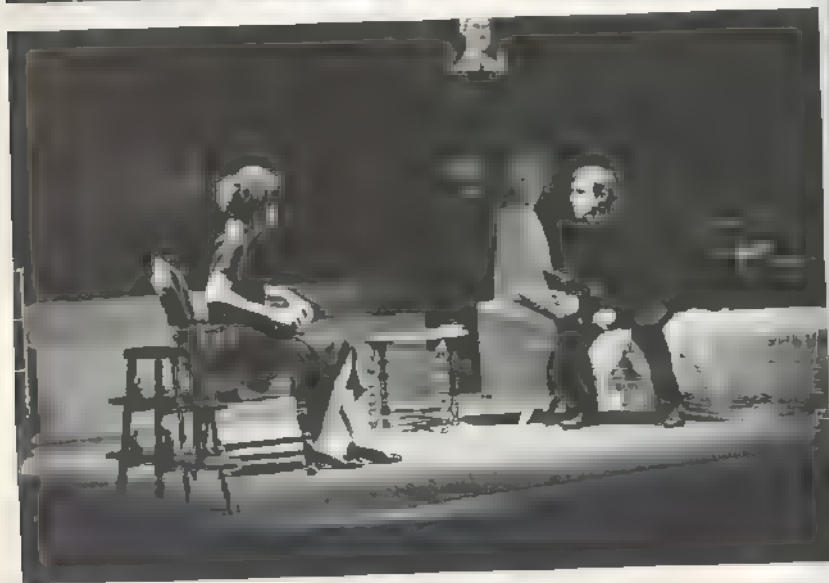

During fall and winter quarters, billiards and basketball were two popular pastimes. When the old co-op in Walker Hall was replaced with the new Georgia Hall, billiard tables were placed in the old co-op for student use. These quickly became favorites with the students. In addition, men and women alike found stiff competition in intramural sports. This program offered students a personal opportunity to participate in physical improvement and team effort.

THE GLASS MENAGERIE

Meliga Players' production of THE GLASS MENAGERIE by Tennessee Williams was a great success. The cast featured Miss Pat Smith as the mother, Jean Augood as her son, Melody Ruff as her daughter, and Bob Burton as the gentleman caller.

Living in a world of illusion, the characters seek escape from reality. The high point in the lives of this family is the visit of the gentleman caller. He brings out the "truth" in each character. Amanda spouts her hypocrisy. Tom tells the caller how he will "stand alone" himself and his situation, and Laura is tied out of herself and manages to get along nicely with him. The turning point, however, occurs when Tom explains he cannot date Laura because he is already engaged. When he leaves, the world of illusion which Amanda and Laura have striven to create in order to make life bearable crashes around them. Tom, too, at the end of his tether, at last leaves home.

Miss Sweetheart

SILSAN WHALEY

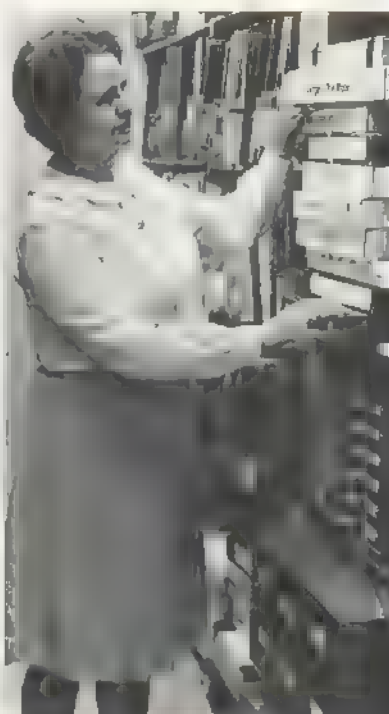

This year the Shade-Airwives Committee featured decoration at the annual Valentine's Dance. During the night in recognition Cindy Floyd introduced the freshmen girls competing for the Miss Sweetheart title: Joanna Archer, Cindy Hudson, Shelly Edwards, Susan Adams, Pam Kull, and Daniele Forehand. Shelly was announced the first runner-up and Susan was crowned Miss Sweetheart.

Education: Creator of Experimentation

Education is a process of interaction between instructor and student. Learning by doing, achieving through knowing, creating. Performing a lab experiment, reviewing a subject, painting a picture, making a work of literature, mastering a musical composition, giving a speech — all are experiences the student encounters in developing his mind and talents.

Education: Ignorer of Age

This year, as in the past, many working students attended night classes at Middle Georgia College. These students commuted from surrounding towns, and they could usually be seen gathering together outside Walker Hall around six o'clock. They followed various curricula: some wanted to take courses solely for personal enrichment. Others needed college credits for job promotions and security. Still others wanted to refresh their knowledge of selected subjects.

In addition to these students, some regular day students chose to attend night classes. But each student found instructors, courses, and materials to suit his unique needs.

At the end of Winter Quarter a contest was held to choose Miss Middle Georgia College of 1972. Eight girls entered the contest as the first step on the road to the Miss America Pageant. Each contestant was judged on swimsuit, evening gown and talent competition by a panel of five judges. Before the contest the judges met each girl individually at a tea. On hand for this annual event were Betty Rowland, Miss Middle Georgia College of '97, and her '97 Miss Georgia, Cynthia Cook. Charles Hill, Master of Ceremonies, announced, DiAnne Forthum of Cochran as second runner-up, Paulette Gay of Twin City as first runner-up and Jot Meadows of Cochran as the new Miss Middle Georgia College.

Miss Middle Georgia College

DOT MEADOWS

The smile of victory.

Dot Meadows is the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Waker Meadows of Cochran, Georgia. In high school she was active in 4-H Club and became state winner in 1969. She served as president on the local, district and state levels. Also in high school Dot won the Miss Cochran High School title and was salutatorian of her grade at graduation.

This year at MCK she was an active member of the Home Economics Club, Student Activities Committee and Warriors Club, and played on the Lady Warriors basketball team.

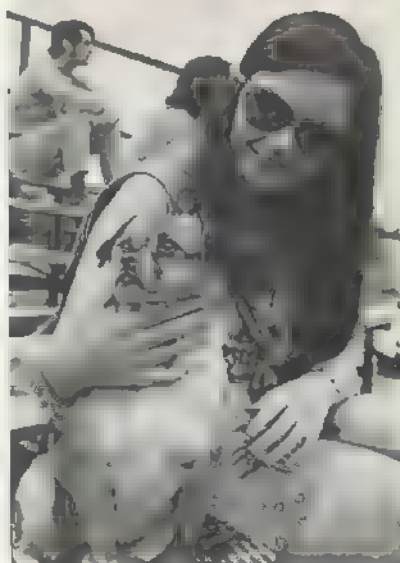

The dead of winter lifted . . .

... and spring came.

Spring - environment, energy, emotions.

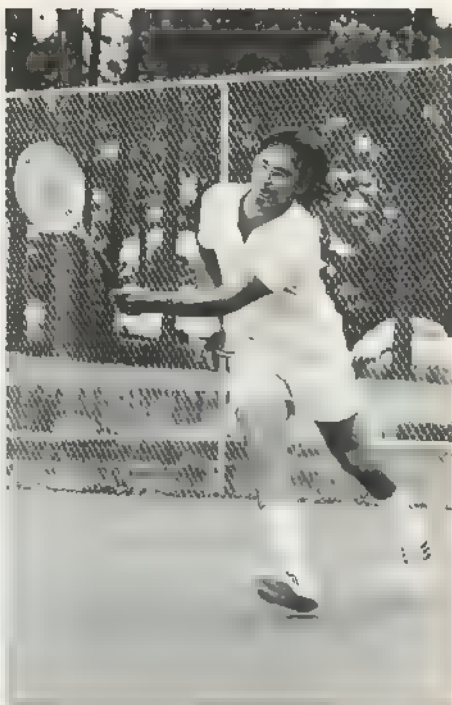

Spring quarter meant the return of popular bands such as the Kadzu pictured above, more work for the Student Activities Committee in planning and/or the year fun, lounging around the front of Walker Hall in between classes, cooling one's feet in the lake, a time of fun, joining for many new year-themed clubs, such as the Cadz Club pictured here at the left, and supporting the Warriors in the hot, sticky afternoons.

Spring Sports

The 1972 baseball season was the best ever for the Warriors. They won more games—35—than any other Warrior nine, while losing only eight. The season record that they broke was only a year old and many of the same players were members of two record-breaking teams.

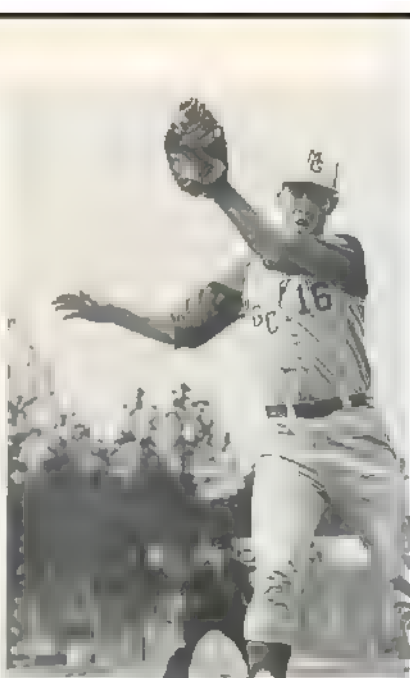

Unfortunately, one of the eight losses was to South Georgia in the State Tournament, placing AGC officially as the number two team in the state. No other junior college team came close to their overall season record, though.

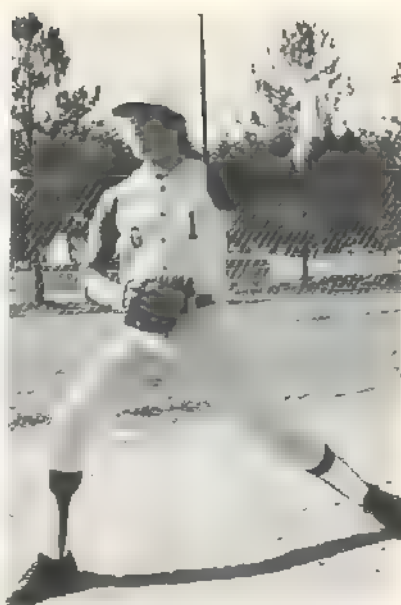

For several individual players, the season was one they will long remember for their individual performances. Wayne Hart and Chuck Adams were named to the All-State Tournament team Six Warriors—Captain Kelly Hamilton, Terry Thompson, Terry Shell, Ricky Goss, Ricky Steinholm and Wayne Hart—were selected as All-Conference.

Ricky Goss finished the season with an incredible .446 batting average and tied with Terry Thompson for the stolen base lead with 22. The Warriors had a wealth of other big bats in the lineup: Terry Shell .350; Ricky Steinholm .318; Jimmy Hamilton .333; Terry Thompson .321; Don Sasser .310; Wayne Hart .292; and Chuck Adams .284.

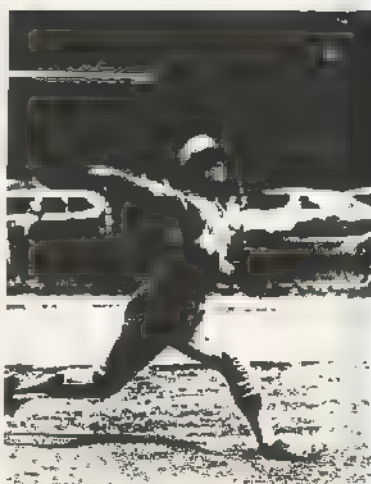

The pitching staff was equally effective. Summie Wilcox was the stingiest, finishing the season with a 2.24 earned run average. Tom Ritch pitched a perfect game and allowed only 7.34 earned runs. Jimmy Bridges also finished the season in the exclusive category of those with less than a 2.0 ERA—Jimmy's was 1.69.

All sophomores received offers from four-year institutions and some were approached by the pros.

Warriors Set the Pace!

"We're in business."

Members of the Phi Beta Lambda Club enjoyed a trip to the state convention in Atlanta and were very successful. The group brought back to Middle Georgia the first place trophy for having the best exhibit. In addition to the second place titles in parliamentary procedure and extemporaneous speaking.

Soap . . . water . . . elbow grease.

In May the Westerners of the township held a money-making car wash to send delegates to Expo '82, which will be held in Dallas, Texas. Harder than washing the cars was to decide just who is going?

The Gamma Beta Phi, under the direction of President Wendel Holmgren, held a book fair. Members of the club collected unused books from the teachers. The books were put on display for selection by them and the remainder was donated to the library. The members, who are former sets club students, gave help to students on campus who requested it. They also emphasized the importance of a college education to surrounding high schools.

David Cunningham, President of the Civitan Club, accepted the Most Outstanding Club Award and the Boy Scrapbook Award for his club. Pam Stokes received the Miss Citizenship award and Susan Whaley was chosen Miss Civitan. All of these were presented at the South Georgia District Meeting.

"Hope," Book Fair, Awards

In May the Prayer Council supported an inter-denominational revival on campus. Earl Davis and David Johnson were the speakers. It progressed each night and by the end of the week one hundred and fifty to two hundred students were attending these services.

A glance into 1972-73 SGA

For one week the students at MGCC listened to the candidates' campaigns for office in the Student Government Association and had a chance to vote for the people who they believed could run the college more efficiently and make necessary changes. After a run-off election between Darryl Crosby and Jimmy Roberts for the office of president, Jimmy was announced the winner. Crawford Broome was elected vice-president. Chip Parker was elected treasurer, and Gary Fleming took over the office of secretary.

Fine Arts Festival

An annual occasion, the Fine Arts Festival was the highlight of Spring Quarter. Midga Players presented A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS in Russell Hall Theatre and in the Opera House in Hawkinsville. Jewelry and painting were displayed by George Galois and Jo Anne Nix of Georgia College during the week of May 8-12.

On May 8, the applied music students at MGC gave a concert and Delta Psi Omega, national honorary drama society, initiated these students pictured at the right: Leon A. Iggood, Vice-President, Robert D. Burton, Marian Chappel, Secretary, Steven Cignarella, President, Darryl Crosby, Rex Ortinger, Melody Ruff, and Dale Smith.

Then on May 9, Honors Day, MGC art students displayed their works around the porch of Russell Hall. That evening, Laurens Men performed Washington Irving's LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW. In addition, on May 11 world-famous pianist Jerold Frederic gave a performance in Russell Hall and the Middle Georgia Choir brought the week to a close with its annual spring concert on May 14.

Honors Days

On May 21 the faculty and administrators honored those students who had excelled academically or who had been chosen to appear on the "only listing of Who's Who in America" in our Colleges. The guest speaker on this occasion was Congressman Senator Dan A. Gambrell. Senator Gambrell challenged students and their parents to talk with him on important issues of today's generation. After the Senator's speech, the 1974 HILL TOPPER was dedicated to Mrs. Jimmy Dill.

On May 1, students who had been strong leaders in clubs and campus activities or who had been participants in "Mentor" sponsor were recognized. Miss Swanson and staff presented each person with a certificate or medal for his outstanding achievements.

May Day

Eight freshmen of high school were chosen by popular vote to represent the student body on the May Court. Susan Whaley was announced freshman Maid of Honor and Diane White was crowned May Queen by Dean Hamby assisted by Jim Hornsby and Cindy Flood. Talented students from the college and Cochran High School performed for the queen and her court.

A New Beginning.

On Wednesday preceding the commencement exercises, graduates were honored at the alumni banquet. Awards of recognition were given to three students: Roush, Kenneth Waggoner, W.H. Smith Car Ketchers, and Mary E. Renard.

MCC's 1944-45 annual graduation exercises were held on Friday, June 2, in the Morris Memorial Gymnasium. Following the address by Dr. William B. King, President of Georgia Southwestern College, Dear visitors and President Alderman presented the graduates and awarded regents and certificates.

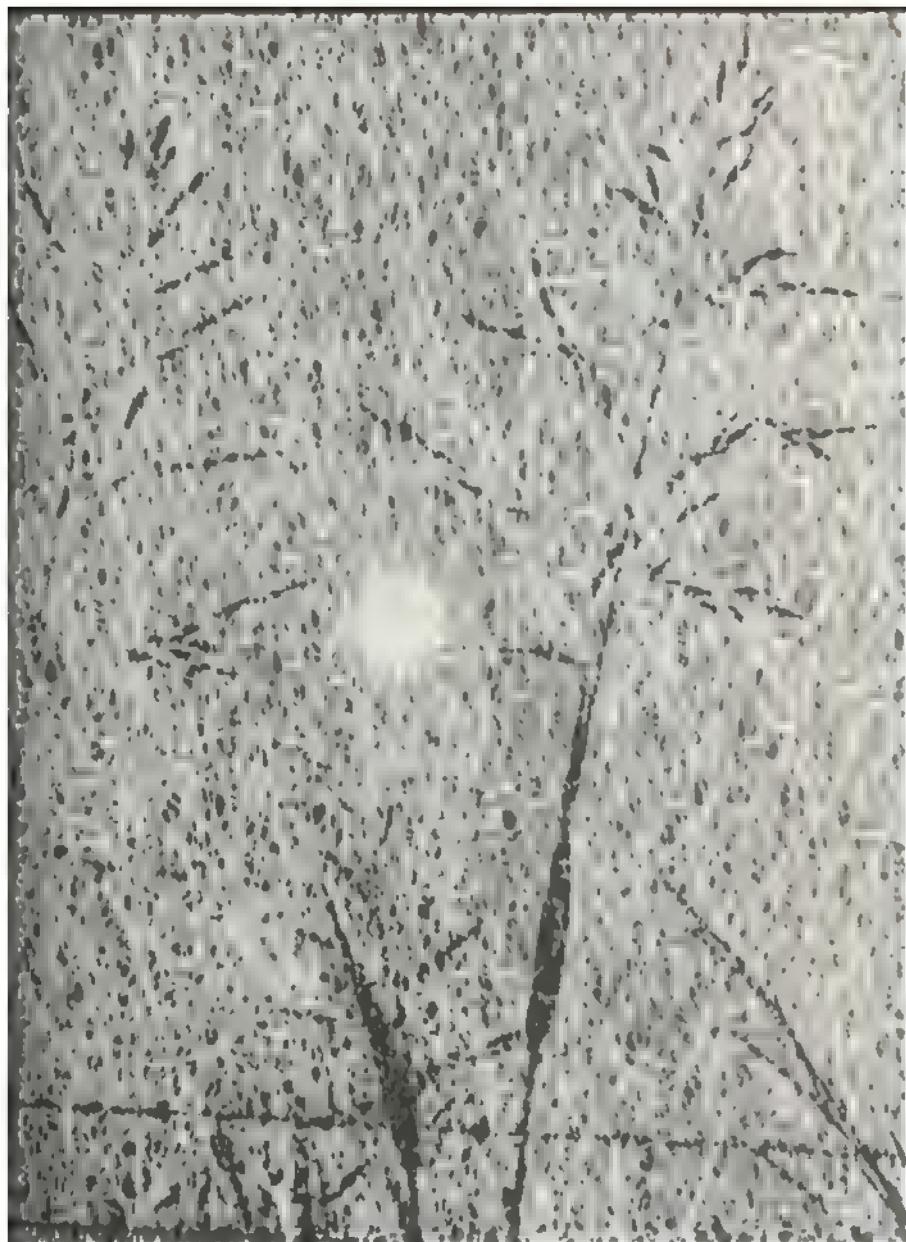

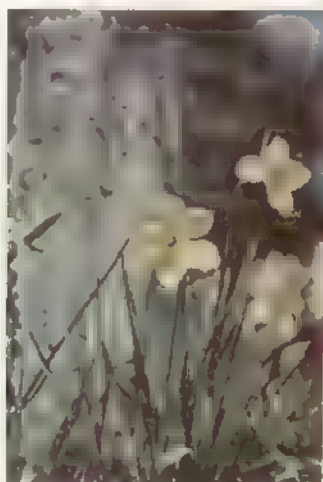

aces of MCC students—collectively they represent those ideals, agonies, aspirations, disappointments, loves, hopes, dreams of American youth in search of identity in a world teeming with confusion, rage, and violence. They reflect unique sensibilities, personalities, goals, and abilities.

Sydney Smith

President

Louis Cleveland Alderman was born in Douglas, Georgia, and is a graduate of South Georgia College. He received his A.B. in biology at Emory University and his M.S. in parasitology at the University of Georgia. In 1940 he received his doctorate in administration of higher education from Auburn University. Dr. Alderman and his wife, the former Anne Whipple, have four children. Dr. Alderman comments on the role of institutions of higher learning:

"In the present day when our institutions of higher education — indeed, those institutions which have been traditional bastions of truth and moral concern — are severely attacked and some portions of their effectiveness destroyed, we would do well to heed a warning issued by America's great historian, Henry Steele Cummings:

The college or university is the most honorable and least corrupt institution in American life. It is with the church, the one institution that associates us with the past and the future, the one institution that has, through all of our history, served, or tried to serve the interests of the whole of mankind and the present world."

No other institution can perform the functions which the college or university performs; no other can fill the place which it has for so long filled and with such intellectual and moral influence.

If we destroy the college or university, we will destroy a unique institution. As the integrity of civilization depends in part on the college or university, we will be dealing an irreparable blow to a civilization now in moral peril.

We must not forget that a college or university is not only a place; it is a spirit. It is not only a collection of books, but it is men of learning. It is not only laboratories where work in science goes forward, but it is also the source of the teaching of the beauties of literature and the arts. It is not only the center where ambitious youth gathers to learn, but it is the place from whence lasting values are derived. It protests against error, and strives to lead men by reason rather than by force.

Dean of Administration

We live in an ever-changing society in which education is essential to success and personal satisfaction. Essential to success because the pleasure of survival. In our highly mechanized civilization depends heavily upon the facilities with which developed skills of mind and body can be applied to the complexities of modern living. Essential to personal satisfaction because an understanding of the functions, demands and limitations of nature, society and man adds significantly to the enjoyment of living.

The need for education in the agricultural societies of past civilizations was minimal. Each family and groups of families were capable of independent existence. Their simple necessities were self-provided. Today's civilization is vastly different, specialization in skill, vocation, or profession is of maximum importance. An intricate network of communication and transportation is a must. Furthermore, a "free" society such as ours requires not the chaos of anarchy but the formation and practice of the "Rules of the Game."

Higher education in the past consisted of the study of man's history, of one or two classical languages, of humanity's culture — art, music, architecture — and of the principles of one's language and of natural philosophy. These studies add much to our understanding and appreciation of life even today. But, current educational requirements are broader and deeper. Our civilization is highly technical and tremendously complex. Our store of knowledge is highly scientific. Therefore, all education must include sufficient study of the method, history, significance, impact, and implication of science and technology. Just as technology must appreciate the ways of society, so society must possess some knowledge of technology. Culture and values involve technology. Furthermore, rapid change dictates more pertinency in our studies. In addition, the rapidly-increasing store of knowledge demands a more thoughtful subject selection and possibly new teaching-learning modes.

Education is making some progress, but change is slow and painful. Somehow it must be eased and possibly accelerated. Continuing or adult education will likely assume a much larger role.

Personal goals are likewise important in the achievement of success and satisfaction. To reach meritorious goals, one must strive for selflessness, use the power of reason to the fullest, be truthful, believe in what is right, treat other people respectfully, and take pride in oneself and his society.

Failure is often present in our endeavors. But, if we accept that it means only delay, not defeat, our full potential will be realized.

Dear Mr. Vadosic

Dedication

It is not unusual to hear a student crack. Her classes are so interesting.

It is not unusual to see her helping a weak student on his errand paper class.

It is not unusual to see her laughing with students outside the class.

It is not unusual to see her with a proportioning wheel, ruler, and layout sheets working very hard on the HILLTOPPER.

She is at her best when things are at their worst. This is a very deserving person. Mrs. Jimmy Quinn.

In Memoriam

JOSEPH LAWTON FORTLAND, Assistant Professor of Business Administration, received his diploma from Middle Georgia College in 1944, graduated summa cum laude from Mercer University, received Masters degree from the University of Michigan, a former teacher in the Cochran High School where assisted the Superintendent in administrative matters. For twenty years he pursued a career in the Supply Corps of the United States Navy, a highly specialized group of professional Naval Officers engaged in financial and material management. He received a diploma from the Naval War College with highest commendations, and attained the rank of Commander where he managed a wide spectrum of business functions in the Navy and the Atomic Energy Commission, including finance and accounting, a vast procurement, units and contract administration, received the Bronze Star Medal for Meritorious Achievement in 1968, received membership in Alpha Phi Kappa, a professional education fraternity and Kappa Sigma social fraternity. He worked closely with Phi Beta Kappa business club at MGU. He always took a keen interest in the well are of all his students, always had a kindly smile and friendly word for everyone, a gentleman in the truest sense of the word, admired, respected, and loved by all of those whose lives he touched throughout his busy and fruitful life, a teacher whose knowledge and concern commanded emulation.

1971-72 Warriors Basketball Team

Looking back over Middle Georgia College's 1971-1972 season of thirteen wins and fifteen losses, one might find disappointments. But the accomplishments are outstanding. Middle Georgia had a fine homecoming by defeating the University of South Carolina at Aiken. It came third in the tournament at Ocala, Florida, defeated big enemies and playoff-bound ABAC and Truett McConnell, and also defeated another one of its big rivals, South Georgia College, at home and at their gym.

Besides strong points, Middle Georgia also developed some outstanding ball players for next year in Jimmy Fallon, co-captain Lamar Kirkley, Ramrod Watson, Frank Bedford, Melvin Robinson, and Elmo Seay.

Leaving Middle Georgia are Richard Ogesbee, co-captain Willie Watkins, and Mike Ross. Richard sometimes started and sometimes came off the bench but always added spark to the team. Willie's scoring consistency which get school records at Middle Georgia, and around hustle will surely make him a fine major college player. Mike's aggressiveness on the offensive and defensive boards will definitely make him a valuable four year player.

WILLIE WATKINS
Class: Sophomore
Height: 5'11"
Position: Guard
Hometown: Montgomery, Ala.
Coach's Comments: "Willie is a fine outside shooter and has handled the Warriors in scoring for two years and holds the school records for career total points—447—and 71 points in a single season."

JIMMY PATTON
Class: Freshman
Height: 6'0"
Position: Guard
Hometown: Chattanooga, Tenn.
Coach's Comments: "Jimmy became a star on a mid-year and averaged scoring in double figures the rest of the year. He should be a top scorer next year with good shooting, tough defense, and a great desire."

RICHARD OAKES
Class: Sophomore
Height: 5'10"
Position: Guard
Hometown: Thomaston, Ga.
Coach's Comments: "Richard was a tough defender player. His good basketball head made him the quarterback on the team."

MIKE ROSS
Class: Sophomore
Height: 5'7"
Position: Forward
Hometown: Jacksonville, Fla.
Coach's Comments: "Mike was a standout for the Warriors for two years. His excellent quickness, fine outside shooting, good jumping and 100% effort make him a good four-year prospect."

MELVIN ROBINSON
Class: Freshman
Height: 6'5"
Position: Center
Hometown: Albany, Ga.
Coach's Comments:

Melvin was one of the most improved players on the team, and he gave the Warriors much to cheer for in the stretch. Melvin's quickness, aggressiveness and jumping ability are sure to make him a star next year.

RAFORD WATSON
Class: Freshman
Height: 6'5"
Position: Forward
Hometown: Swain County, Ga.
Coach's Comments:

Raford has excellent quickness for a big man and a good jumper who goes to the basket well. He earned a starting job toward the end of the season, and he possesses the ability to be a stand-out.

FRANK BEDFORD
Class: Freshman
Height: 6'5"
Position: Guard
Hometown: Thomaston, Ga.
Coach's Comments:

Frank improved greatly toward the end of the season. He was one of the best shooters on the team and with improved ball handling will play wing guard for the Warriors next year.

ELMO SEAY
Class: Freshman
Height: 6'8"
Position: Center
Hometown: Thomaston, Ga.
Coach's Comments:

Elmo missed the first half of the year with a broken arm, but he improved rapidly once the injury started. Elmo can be as good as he wants to be. He should give the Warriors inside strength next year.

LAMAR KYKKLEY
Class Freshman
Height 6' 2"
Position Forward
Hometown Milan Ga.
Coach's Comments
"Lamar was a 100 percent player who led by examples. He was the leading rebounder on the team although he had to go against 6'7" or 6'8" guys. Lamar has great drive and is a center to be a top six-year player.

Assuming the responsibility of editing the 1972 HILLTOPPER is perhaps the most exciting and the most difficult responsibility which I have ever undertaken. Even though I realize that some will find fault, I sincerely hope that this book will be perceived as an individual to recapture and relive a few moments at Middle Georgia College, whether it be the Homecoming dance, featuring Hamilton, Joe Frank, and Revnolux, the tied score, the fast-moving clock, and finally the two points which won the basketball game against ARAC, the complicated calculus final, or the many hours spent in the library diligently working on that term paper which determined whether youaced English 102.

My special thanks go to our sponsors Mrs. Odom and Mrs. Kestling for their advice and patience, to Class of Scott, and Warren for their hard work, and to every other person who had a part in the 1972 HILLTOPPER. Good luck to all of you.

Mary Jo Branley
Editor
